TRANSLATION:

CHORUS

*Bring us home good ale, sir; bring us home good ale,
 And for our dear Lady love, bring us home good ale.*

VERSES

Bring us home no beef, sir, for that is full of bones,
 But bring us home good ale enough, for I love well that,
 But bring us home good ale.

Bring us home no wheaten bread, for that is full of charcoal,
 Neither no rye bread, for that is of the same, But...

Bring us home no pork, sir, for that is very fat,
 Neither no barley bread, for neither love I that, But...

Bring us home no mutton, sir, for that is tough and lean,
 Neither no tripe, for that be seldom clean, But...

Bring us home no veal, sir, for that will not endure,
 But bring us home good ale enough to drink by the fire, But...

Bring us home no cider, nor no measly wine,
 For, and thou do, thou shalt have Christ's curse and mine, But...
